

Class and Compensation Study

Town of Medfield
2025

1,118.601,118.60

Executive Summary

The Town of Medfield engaged the Edward J. Collins, Jr. Center for Public Management to conduct a classification and compensation study.

Key outcomes include:

- New position descriptions with clear duties and requirements.
- Evaluation of positions to ensure internal equity.
- A market survey to recommend a fair compensation structure.

Position Descriptions

The Project Team gathered information from position classification questionnaires and interviews. Draft descriptions were reviewed and finalized with Department Heads and Employee feedback.

Collected position data via questionnaires and interviews.

Developed new descriptions, including roles, responsibilities, and qualifications

Process: Draft descriptions reviewed and finalized with feedback

Each position was assigned a point factor in a series of categories, including those listed below, and the total points determined the groupings of positions. These categories include:

- ❖ Supervision Received
- ❖ Supervision Exercised
- ❖ Accountability
- ❖ Judgment
- ❖ Complexity
- ❖ Personal Contacts
- ❖ Confidentiality
- ❖ Education/Licenses
- ❖ Experience
- ❖ Work Environment
- ❖ Physical Requirements
- ❖ Motor Skills Requirement
- ❖ Physical Skills Requirements
- ❖ Vision Requirement
- ❖ Occupational Risks

Classification & Internal Equity

Using a point factor rating system, the Project Team evaluated positions based on key categories, ensuring internal equity across roles.

RECOMMENDED CLASSIFICATION STRUCTURE

A standardized classification structure was developed for recruitment and comparisons with other municipalities. This was further refined to reflect exempt and non-exempt positions.

FACTOR	DISCUSSION
Title Comparison	Titles may have different responsibilities across municipalities, leading to skewed results.
Data Points	Analysis relies on at least three salary data points to avoid skewing averages with outliers.
Organizational/Staffing Structure	Larger municipalities often have specialized positions with narrower responsibilities, while smaller ones have broader roles, impacting salary comparisons.
Elected and Appointed Officials	Appointed officials are often compensated higher than elected ones with the same title due to required education and experience.
Reporting Relationship	Titles may differ in meaning depending on municipal size—e.g., the same title may represent different levels of authority in larger municipalities.
Salary Ranges	Salary ranges may be outdated, and it's unclear whether municipalities hire at the minimum reported salary.

Labor Market Salary Survey

A salary survey compared the Town’s pay with other municipalities. Key challenges in comparisons include varying duties and title structures. A median pay approach was used to ensure accuracy, with results showing that most pay levels fall within market ranges.

IMPLEMENTATION

- DPW Restructuring
- Health Department Restructuring
